EXPANSION OF NATIONAL GARDENING PROGRAM

On February 6, Secretary of Agriculture, Charles Brannon announced the expansion of home gardening and home food preservation which is to be carried out by the United States Department of Agriculture. In approving the expansion program, the Secretary announced that the Cooperative Extension Service, Federal and State, would have the responsibility for leadership in the program. Both garden and food preservation work is being carried on in all States and territories. The national program, however, is expected to add impetus to these existing activities.

This action was taken following the recommendations by an advisory group composed of Extension leaders, garden editors, educators, garden club officials, commercial vegetable growers, canners and seedsmen. The American Seed Trade Ass'n. was represented on the advisory committee.
